Interesting new worldVon AnneSince I read it in English I've decided to write the feedback in that language.I got this book when it was still a free read but it is definitely a keeper and worth paying for. In this story a young doctor is kidnapped and brought into a complex underground world with artificial beaches, shopping malls "white picket fences" houses and a society of vampires (they call themselves Vrcolac), dragons (human females with special bloodlines), half demons and fey. Thinking she has been kidnapped by a cult of madman she slowly realizes that instead of everyone around her being delusional she has to accept that there are indeed creatures more than humans. She learns that for her to get free again she simply has to choose one of three drool worthy man/ vampire, live happily ever after and after her first child is born she is even allowed to visit her family for Christmas and birthdays - hurrah. Sadly she falls for another one who has taken a vow of celibacy and is not allowed to take a mate ever. Toni decides that seeing her beloved brother twice a year is not ok and being kidnapped and forced to make a choice is not ok and especially not being asked about any of this is so not ok! The other dragons, even though in love with their husbands agree and go on strike. But not only the vampires want her but the Om Rau (the bad demon neighbors) and some other strange faction above ground fight for her. What I love about this book is the detailed world with its rich history and traditions and the creative way everything is described. It's a bit like Artemis Fowl for grown ups with more fighting and lots of hot sex. Two more couples and their marriage besides Toni and her reluctant lover are described so well that you feel you know them and hope they can overcome their difficulties. Oh and I absolutely love the fact that for this race being faithful is the only option (again nice creative idea ;-)) Fun to read, hot sex, lots of sexy males and wonderful strong female counterparts.

Kurzbeschreibung 2014 BRONZE MEDAL AWARD WINNER for ROMANCE Independent Publishers Book Awards (IPPY) If you like Kresley Cole, Gena Showalter, Lara Adrian, Larissa Ione J.R. Ward, you have to read this new series by Tracy Tappan! ~ Fan review Desperate to save their dying people, a brotherhood of Vrcolac warriors steal genetically superior women for a repopulation program until the beautiful doctor they kidnap this time stirs up a mutiny. A computer hacked hospital blood test confirms that Dr. Toni Parthen carries a gene that's the key to salvation for a unique race of human beings. Abducted to a secret, underground community, Toni is asked to do the unthinkable: procreate with a man from a race called Vrcolaca species that must consume the blood of other humans to survive. Then bizarre turns dangerous, because a new, mysterious enemy also wants her special DNA, and Toni finds herself in the middle of an all-out war to possess her. It's the job of Jacken Brun, leader of the Warrior Class, to keep the captured women safe from a demonic race of humans who rule a neighboring part of their underground world. His challenges multiply when Toni inflames the women into mutiny, and then there's his biggest problem: his growing desire for the infuriating woman herself. Afflicted with a dark genetic makeup, Jacken can never be with a woman. But that doesn't stop him from chasing after her when the new enemy faction unearths Toni and drags her to their hidden lair, where they'll inflict an unspeakable cruelty on her to gain access to her valuable genes. It will take every warrior skill Jacken owns to save the woman he loves, but only if he can find her in time. Content guidelines: contains profanity, violence, and adult situations. Marriage to a Naval Aviator for over twenty-five years has provided fodder for her imagination, especially the tours she spent traveling the globe on diplomatic orders in Rome and Madrid. Now settled back in sunny San Diego, she writes gritty romance novels, spanning genres across paranormal, historical, and military suspense. Tracy is also the founder and creator of THE CHARACTER COUCH (www.charactercouch.com), a reader-focused website designed to help fans keep in touch with their favorite fictional characters by providing fun monthly therapy sessions for a selected couple. Tracy's a foodie and wine enthusiast, and when she's not writing, she's an avid dancer and tennis player. She has two children and a variety of pets at any one given time.
