Kurzbeschreibung What came to be known as the Northanger Horrid Novels were seven early works of Gothic fiction mentioned in Jane Austen's book Northanger Abbey. Originally these works were thought to have been fake, made up by Austen to parody contemporary Gothic novels. However, more recent research revealed that the books were entirely real, sparking new interest in them. A total of nine early Gothic novels are mentioned in the text of Northanger Abbey, although only the first seven have become known as the "Horrid Novels". This collection contains all nine works, including: Castle of Wolfenbach (1793) by Eliza Parsons The Necromancer; or, The Tale of the Black Forest (1794) by Ludwig Flammenberg The Mysterious Warning, A German Tale (1796) by Eliza Parsons Horrid Mysteries (1796) by the Marquis de Grosseclermont, A Tale (1798) by Regina Maria Roche The Midnight Bell (1798) by Francis Lathom Orphan of the Rhine (1798) by Eleanor Sleath The Mysteries of Udolpho (1794) by Ann Radcliffe The Italian, or the Confessional of the Black Penitents (1797) by Ann Radcliffe This edition also includes a foreword and editors notes about each of the works. This material was NOT merely scanned from an ink-and-paper book, like many Kindle e-books are. All e-books offered by Di Lernia Publishers are hand-edited and hand-
